

RICHELLE

Hi, I'm Rickelle. I live in Marietta Georgia. So, two years and it has been very busy and hectic. I went through a divorce and I ran a business with my husband and we are still running the business together and everything is getting better. When the pandemic started, it was scary and surreal. I remember us getting two weeks off at first and then it went a little longer and there was a part of me that was rather excited to have the stay-at-home time. However, just everything was getting a little unsettled. I couldn't really say - I remember hearing someone say that at the end of the pandemic there's going to be a lot of people in AA, pregnant, or getting divorced. I'm not in AA but I did start drinking more than I should have. So, I went through a divorce so I took some my bags now. But other than that everything seems to be working its way out just fine, and I will be happy to share anything else if I need to. All right. Thanks. Bye.
