

TRAVIS

Hi, this is Travis, and I had a very interesting experience during the pandemic. As a busy musician, I never — I think really any of us has never had our lives completely stop. You can take a huge step back and look at what is it you like about your life and what is it that you don't like. What is maybe making you miserable, or what is bringing you joy? And, for me, I did a lot of show writing and did a lot of show creation, and just discovered that there was a lot of it that I was doing that was making me miserable. It was kind of ruining our home life, driving our family apart. And, some of it was really fruitful. I found that a lot of the work that I was doing at the church brought me the most significant joy, and that was just so obvious once everything stopped. So, I made some pretty huge shifts. What was nice about the pandemic is with most of the entertainment industry being down, I was able to let go of certain things and give people the proper time that they'd need to replace me, and kind of reformat and restructure. So, that's my story. Thank you.
